The Best Media School

Media is a world of changes. A world that acquires and encompasses new value systems and new technology on a daily basis. This is where Mathrubhumi Media School is unique in preparing prospective journalists to face the media world. The academic system here at Media School is a culmination of strong theoretical foundation and also sophisticated technical training. We here believe in creating complete journalists rooted in values, but modern in outlook. Mathrubhumi Media School is one of the very few journalism schools in the country that strike a perfect balance between theory and practice.

Mathrubhumi Media School belongs to the Mathrubhumi Group, one of the most prominent media houses in the country. As a result our students get exposed to the very latest in media education and technology as the Mathrubhumi group has verticals across print, broadcast, online and other digital media. Today, the Mathrubhumi Group is not only a fast growing media house of repute but also a gigantic corporate entity in the Indian mass communication industry.

The main focus of Mathrubhumi Media School is on intense practical training. The school is on a mission to train its students in the most modern and cutting edge technology and software. Some of them are listed below.
